

A Call to Stand Apart:

Challenging Young Adults to Make An Eternal Difference

Selections from the Writings of Ellen G. White; a paraphrase

Grade Levels: 11, 12

A Call to Stand Apart is a modern paraphrase of Ellen White's writings prepared especially for young adults. Section 1: "Just Jesus and You" begins with the birth of Jesus and concludes with His death and resurrection. Section 2: "Just Jesus in Your Life" is topical and deals with issues relevant to young people today. The table on the next page lists chapter titles.

A Call to Stand Apart may be used on its own in the classroom or in conjunction with the NAD curriculum. For those who decide to use this book on its own, section one provides a good chronological overview of Jesus' life. For those who wish to use the book as a supplement to the NAD curriculum, the contents table also contains suggestions as to where the chapters in this book would be best suited.

eDream: Exploring the Prophetic Role of Ellen White is a 20-minute DVD produced by the Ellen G. White Estate. The DVD serves as an introduction to both Ellen White and the book A Call to Stand Apart. James Nix, director of the White Estate, provides a few anecdotes about Ellen White that he learned from her grandchildren. Cindy Tutsch, associate director of the White Estate, explains the purpose for the book A Call to Stand Apart. Other guests appearing on the DVD include Jose Rojas, director of Adventist Volunteer Ministries (NAD), Ben Carson, director of Pediatric Neuro-Surgery at John Hopkins Medical Institution, and Lyn Behrens, president/CEO of Loma Linda University.

Also included in this lesson guide are suggestions for projects and assignments along with a worksheet for each chapter in the book.